Cookware party to benefit Turning Pointe

SHELTON, WA. The local Shelton Eagles Aerie is sponsoring a “Pampered Chef” party as a benefit for Turning Pointe. The event will take place on Saturday, November 10, at the Aerie, 411 So. First St., in downtown Shelton, from 1-3 pm. The event is hosted by Terri Petree and the Pampered Chef representative is Evon Masteller.

Pampered Chef is known for its quality kitchen and household items purchased generally through home parties. In this case, the hostess gifts and the dealer profit are all being donated to Turning Pointe. In addition, party-goers are invited to order not only for themselves, but also to order an extra item to be donated to the new Mason Co. Domestic Violence Shelter.

The party is an in an “open house” format and will feature food prepared by Eagles’ members.

For those unable to attend the party, Turning Pointe will have order books available, with an order deadline of Nov. 16. For more information, contact Terri Petree, at 360-432-0229.
